

TARGET BIO RESEARCH

What's happening at Neuralink?

There's a mushroom cloud currently surrounding the world of Research & Development. The boom that was ignited by parabolic technological advancement and global therapeutic needs, is now a metaphorical dust-cloud, left as a result of recent political restructuring and market uncertainty on a global level. Ironically, an ember grows in the risky developments of neural integration group - Neuralink.

